

OVERVIEW

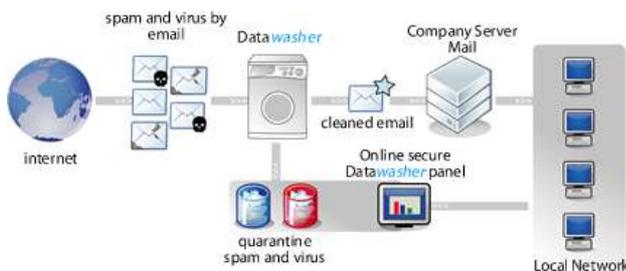

Email cleaned, Network protected with Datawasher

DATAWASHER is the preventive e-mail filtering solution powered by an intelligent advanced technology which defines a security perimeter outside of business network, protecting it from email's attacks.

DATAWASHER represents the evolution of traditional anti-virus systems and it is the most innovative solution to fight spam.

It is the innovative solution running in outsourcing on the SASP infrastructure of QUADRO. Datawasher is not only a preventive way to protect company's network from spam and virus attacks but guarantees, as well, an advanced protection that could not be offered by traditional anti-virus, as everybody knows, makes only a passive control.

Datawasher, after having identified and blocked attack's attempts, virus and spam messages, sends clean messages to each user in real time, isolating suspicious messages in the quarantine area which can be viewed in a safe way through a normal browser.

Datawasher works outside of company's network

Immediate Deployment

The activation of the service is quick and immediately available. Its implementation is simple and it does not need either installation or hardware or software's integration. Datawasher is compatible with all e-mail systems.

The advantages of being in outsourcing

Outsourcing dissociates the company from administrative problems, implementation, management, maintenance, update and control. Datawasher guarantees an always up-to-date service based on the latest techniques of email protection.

Monitoring 24x7 and Continuous Update

Datawasher's activity is continuously monitored to guarantee a correct function and the highest performance. It is also continuously updated with the latest techniques of spam and virus filtering.

Datacenter at the State of the art

Its platform is located in datacenters connected to the most important Internet peering points.

Connectivity and dedicated redundant systems are able to manage a high volume of traffic guaranteeing quality, reliability and continuity of the service.

Scalability

Datawasher is able to manage an unlimited number of e-mail accounts according to the growth needs of the company. Datawasher scalability eliminates added costs of system upgrade for the increase of the company user's e-mail.

Respecting your Privacy

Datawasher is one of the few services respecting the European regulation in terms of Privacy and Data Processing (DP).
